home and dry

Sometimes the simplest ideas are the best. Here's something new to keep you warm and dry this winter. It's inexpensive, durable, looks great and is waterproof and lightweight - it's a Skoody; a scarf that turns into a waterproof, reversible jacket. I tried one this weekend, and boy was it simple. You unfold the scarf and slip on a warm and completely waterproof hooded jacket with windproof drawstrings to boot.

It's ingenious and a must-have for anyone that loves to travel but hates packing. I shall keep one in my briefcase and one in the boot of the car. I reckon they'd make great Christmas presents for kids and friends.

Check out the website at www.skoody.co.uk, £30 + p&p for adults and £25 + p&p for children.
